Follow the trail to Mink Falls, enjoy the falls then follow mink creek to the small creek. You are very close.

There is a short section that is steep and slippery. I've changed the type and size of the container. I hope this one is more bear proof. This is now a small cache and because of this change I've replaced most items with smaller one. The cache is in the same spot, only it is attached to a tree. The container is cylindrical in shape and about 10" long. I think you'll find this new container unique.
